Results achieved: Describe the quantitative and qualitative results achieved	Through the project we have developed: Project Management Handbook ; Communication and dissemination plan; Best Practices Research report (IO1) ; Pilot Sport Games Training Module (IO2) for elementary school children and PE teachers; Compendium of Infographics (IO3) and Guidelines for future activities to promote combat against violence, racism, discrimination and intolerance in sport (IO4). Project web page was developed as well as social media pages.
Innovation: Specific Characterisation of the project/programme in terms of innovation	The innovative aspect of this project is based on the designing of new educational tools based on Infographics (are graphic visual representations of information, data or knowledge intended to present information quickly and clearly). Infographics can improve cognition by utilizing graphics to enhance the human visual system's ability to see patterns and trends. Similar pursuits are information visualization, data visualization, statistical graphics, information design, or information architecture. Infographics have evolved in recent years to be for mass

	communication, and thus are designed with fewer assumptions about the readers' knowledge base than other types of visualizations) that will be used to reach these target groups through training activities. Through the project activities we will actively involve PE teachers and pupils in project activities through the development and implementation of educational materials, linking experts, exchanging examples of good practice, encouraging co-operation and preparing joint initiatives / projects / programs related to the prevention and combating of violence in sport and sport (before, during and after sports events), the fight against discrimination and intolerance and the promotion of tolerance and multiculturalism.
Empowerment: Describe the specific impact generated by the project/programme in terms of empowerment	The project aimed to identify, develop and compile sports-related best practices, which optimally contribute to the dissemination of messages of respect, the fight against discrimination and racism and the prevention of all forms of violence in sports. The project promoted sports values as a key element for the fight against intolerance, racism and other forms of discrimination, and draw attention to the relevance of sports for an integral development of youngsters. Sport is a human activity resting on fundamental social, educational and cultural values. It is a factor making for integration, involvement in social life, tolerance, acceptance of differences and playing by the rules. For many people, especially for young people sport is a part of their identity. Nowadays many sports are confronted with a great number of threats such as violence, racism, discrimination and intolerance. Those threats challenge the fundamental values of European political and cultural integration so there is a need for training of teaching professionals (e.g. physical education teachers) and coaches about the prevention of discrimination and violence in sport in schools and sports clubs. The project was focused on supporting the implementation of the EU policy regarding the strengthening of the prevention and fight against

	racism and violence among youth in sport, in respect to a number of EU policies, guidelines and recommendations such as White Paper on Sport through developing and compiling sports-related best practices dedicated to elementary school children and PE teachers and motivating them to take part in project activities in order to raise their awareness on the importance of fight against any form of violence and discrimination in sport.
